

Reflect & Rethink

Reflect upon how the information/inquiry process may have been improved.

What did I do well?

What changes would I make if I could do this again?

This step may involve:

- class review and reflection on presentations
- personal reflection on work habits
- discussing group performance for collaborative tasks
- editing and republishing if required/desired
- considering ways of 'going further' with research